

Khara Gossage is a Blue-Sky toy creator. She develops her toys from start to finish. When creating her toys, she pictures how it will be played with by a child, and then engages herself in that imaginary world. Her toys are filled with fun play patterns children love. Khara also makes mechanisms that enhance her toys. She is amazing at prototyping and developing designs by using foam core, plastic, wood, 3D printing and sewing fabric. She has strong skills in pattern making and embroidery design. Her interests are model making, plush fabrication, 3D, playsets, vehicles and building sets.
